The use of the phrase et al. is required in the text (e.g. Smith et al., 1990), but not in the list of references where the names of ALL authors should be given.

English language translations of titles should follow the romanized (e.g. pinyin) and be set in square brackets.

Journal titles should not be abbreviated.

Places of publication may be given in the original language of publication, e.g. Wien, Torino.
