Welcome

Address from the President

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the 2015 RC21 Conference in Urbino.

Cities have been planned and projected for centuries. Long before that, the daily practices of their inhabitants and the social, economic and political processes around them had continuously built, transformed and resignified cities. After all, throughout history, people have always conceived and produced their spaces, and cities were (and still are) the ever-contingent result of historical heritages, imaginations, social and political practices, plans and projects.

Urban studies have continuously aspired to better understand the multiple and complex connections between imagined and lived cities, between context/legacies and plans, between urban projects and the daily social practices that together continuously rebuild the cities we live in and imprint in us the unique experiences of urban life. During the following days, plenaries and sessions will untangle those relationships through detailed discussions not only on classical urban themes such as social justice, conflicts, welfare, planning, housing, informality in daily practices and policies, but also focusing on recent debates on governance, diversity, smart cities, sustainability and climate change, among others.

In the next three days, we will have the privilege of developing those discussions in Urbino, the wonderful city that has been rooted in the plans and aesthetic discussions of urbanism since the Renaissance. Let's be inspired by this scenario and make this a very fruitful and enjoyable ISA RC21 conference.

Good work to all of us.

Eduardo Marques
RC21 President

Welcome from the Organizing Committee

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

a warm welcome to Urbino (Italy), to the University of Urbino Carlo Bo and to the Department of Economy, Society and Politics! We hope you will find this conference rich and stimulating.

We spent a great effort in building a programme where plenaries and parallel sessions provide plural views of the fact that - in the wake of globalization and State rescaling – cities are regaining relevance as social laboratories for new and innovative practices of social inclusion and participation. Cities are becoming again and more than ever a project. Policy-makers, planners, inhabitants and mobile people build representations and idealizations that make a big part of the allure of urban life.

The Ideal City between Myth and Reality is the topic of this conference. Indeed, cities are imagined, made and remade “by design”. This has long tradition: from the grids of Roman cities to contemporary capitals like Brasilia, from urban lives in the Renaissance to the Futurist vertical dreams; from, the 19th century garden cities to the current hype for smart cities.

All “cities on paper” have to cope with the complexity and unpredictability of everyday life. Cities are embedded in social, economic and political contexts. This conference is interested in unveiling this complexity. By questioning utopian and ideal visions of the city, it aims at putting them in perspective considering actual agency and current structural changes.

How does socio-economic change affect cities and their ideal “diverse” visions? How do poverty and inequalities challenge ideal views of a just city? How are ideal cities contrasting real cities affected by segregation and social exclusion practices? Do different ideals coexist? Does the crisis affect our urban projects? In which direction? Who wins who loses? How do visions and ideals differ across the globe and how are they questioned by increasingly similar challenges? Sessions address these questions.

We hope that the context within which this conference takes place – the historical centre of a well preserved capital of the Italian Renaissance – will be inspiring to you. We wish you a great time in Urbino and its lovely surroundings. Thanks for coming, and enjoy our conference!

David Harvey

“The urbanization of our discontents”

Aula Magna - August 27th 14:30/16:00

David Harvey is a Distinguished Professor of Anthropology & Geography at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York (CUNY) and author of numerous books. Among his most influential works: Social Justice in the City (1973, 2009); The Limits to Capital (1982, 2007); The Condition of Postmodernity (1989); Spaces of Hope (2000); Spaces of Capital (2001) and most recently Rebel Cities (2012). Based in the field of geography, Harvey has had a profound influence on fields across the social sciences and humanities. His interests span from geography and social theory to urban political economy; from architecture and urban planning to Marxism; from environmental philosophies; to social justice and utopianism.

Ayşe Caglar and Nina Glick Schiller

“Migrants between myth and reality: Displacement, dispossession and city making” - IJURR Lecture

Aula Magna - August 28th 11:30/12:30

Ayşe Caglar is Professor of Social and Cultural Anthropology, Department of Social and Cultural Anthropology, University of Vienna from 2011. Previously, she was Research group director at Max Planck Institute for the Study of Multiethnic and Multireligious Societies (Göttingen, Germany) and Professor at the Central European University, Budapest. Based in the fields of Sociology and Anthropology, she has been particularly active in research on globalization and transnationalization processes; transformations of nation states; migration and the relationship between migration and neoliberal urban restructuring. Her current research focusses on migrants, urban reinvention and cultural industries. Among her most influential works, the coedited book (with Nina Glick Schiller) Locating migration (2011).

Raquel Rolnik

“From the ideal city to urban warfare: the colonization of housing and urban land by global finance”

Aula Magna - August 28th 15:30/16:30

Raquel Rolnik is a Professor at the Faculty of Architecture and Urbanism of the University of São Paulo where she teaches on urban planning, housing policies and urban issues. She is also the coordinator of LabCidade, a research center on the right to city. She has over 30 years of practical experience in planning, urban land management and housing policies. She has advised national and local governments on urban policy reform as well as acted as a consultant for countries and international cooperation agencies. She is the author of several books and articles on urban issues in academic journals as well as in the media, in radio, TV and newspapers. In 2008 she was appointed by the UN Human Rights council as Special Rapporteur on adequate housing, mandate held until May 2014.

Susan Fainstein and Peter Marcuse

“Is the ideal city also just?”

Room C1 - August 29th 11:30/12:30

Susan S. Fainstein is a Senior Research Fellow in the Harvard Graduate School of Design. She has also been a Professor of planning in the Graduate School of Architecture, Planning and Preservation at Columbia University and of planning at Rutgers University. Her research interests include planning theory, urban theory, urban redevelopment, and comparative urban policy focusing on the United States, Europe, and East Asia.

Among her most influential works, The Just City (2010); The City Builders (1994); Restructuring the City (1986). She has co-edited volumes on urban tourism – The Tourist City (1999) and Cities and Visitors (2003); planning theory – Readings in Planning Theory (2003); urban theory – Readings in Urban Theory (1996), and gender – Gender and Planning (2005).

Peter Marcuse, a planner and lawyer, is Professor Emeritus of Urban Planning at Columbia University in New York City. He has also been Professor of Urban Planning at UCLA and extensively around the world (West and East Germany, Australia, South Africa, Canada, Austria, Spain, Canada, and Brazil). His fields of research include city planning, housing, the use of public space, the right to the city, social justice in the city, globalization, and urban history, with some focus on New York City. He has written extensively in both professional journals and the popular press. Among his most relevant works: Missing Marx (1991) and coedited books like Globalizing Cities (2000), Of States and Cities (2002), Searching for the Just City (2009), Cities for People Not for Profit (2011).

From Polo Volponi to ISIA

Registration and general information

REGISTRATION

Registration will be in the entrance hall of Polo Volponi (Via Saffi, 15), the main conference venue. Registration will be open from 9.30 on Thursday 27th August. The Registration desk is also the main information point for the conference. You will always find a member of the staff there.

PROGRAMME VENUES

Parallel sessions will take place at two venues: Polo Volponi (levels B, C, D) and ISIA. Plenary sessions will take place at the Polo Volponi in the Aula Magna at level E. Buildings, their entrance and conference rooms are marked on the maps in this programme.

WIRELESS AND TECHNICAL HELP

A wireless connection is available at Polo Volponi and in the town main squares. You can connect either using the username and password included in your delegate package, or (just in university buildings) using Eduroam. Your username and password is valid for access to the networks UWIC and UNIURB. Some connection problems may be experienced in very crowded rooms. Should you experience long lasting connection problems, please contact the Registration desk. Each conference room will have a beamer and a facility for PowerPoint and PDF presentations – including a laptop. We ask you to bring your presentation on a USB memory stick. Please arrive 20 minutes before the sessions start to upload your presentation. Should you need to use specific software, please inquire with the conference staff in due time. Since the schedule is very tight, please keep to times and ensure that the session does not over run.

OTHER FACILITIES

Please, ask the Registration desk at Polo Volponi if you need a quiet space (for prayer, breastfeeding, meetings, interviews, etc. ...). A multipurpose room (C6) will be available.

Eating and Drinking

COFFEE BREAKS

Coffee breaks will be served on level A. If you have special dietary requests, please inform the catering staff who will show you available options.

WELCOME DRINK

The welcome drink on Thursday 27th August will take place at the Data – Orto dell'Abbondanza, first floor (5 min. walk from the venue). Entrances are located on Via Matteotti (near the theatre) and on Borgo Mercatale. If you get lost, follow the directions for "EXPO". The welcome drink is included in the delegate fee and starts at 19:00.

SOCIAL DINNER

The social dinner will take place on Friday 28th at 19:30 at ISIA, Monastery of Santa Chiara in via Santa Chiara (3 min. walk from the main venue). Dinner is served buffet style (standing). Some sit-down tables will be available. We advise you against using spike-heel shoes. Participation to the social dinner costs € 35.00. If you have not registered yet and want to participate, please contact the Registration desk to check availability. If you have special dietary requests, please inform the catering staff who will show you the available options.

RECYCLING

We are committed to reduce the resources used in our Conference by sourcing food locally and using recycled or recyclable materials as much as possible.

Organization

STAFF AND VOLUNTEERS

All staff and conference volunteers can be identified by their white t-shirt with the conference logo. Please do not hesitate to ask them for assistance at any time.

Volunteers: Alba Angelucci, Marco Arlotti, Nico Bazzoli, Leonardo Catena, Elena Colli, Fabio Colombo, Eva Esnerova, Angela Garcia Bernardos, Hanna Jurjevec, Anna Maurizi, Angelo Mosca, Sarissa Napolitano, Luca Negrogno, Massimiliano Orazi, Harley Ronan, Tatiana Saruis, Vittorio Sergi, Christophe Verrier.

ORGANIZATION COMMITTEE

Members of the organizing committee: Alberta Andreotti, Eduardo Barberis, Yuri Kazepov, Eduardo Marques.
In case of need, members of the organizing committee can be contacted via the Registration desk at Polo Volponi.
